

Handwritten text on the spine label, likely a library or ownership record. The text is written in a cursive script and includes the name "Dr. Konig" and the year "1780".

Additional handwritten text on the spine label, possibly a date or further identification. The text is partially obscured and difficult to read due to the book's condition and the angle of the photograph.