

This being the first time that the world has seen such a great number of people gathered together in one place, it is not surprising that the city should be filled with a great number of beggars and
 the streets should be covered with filth and
 the air should be
 so very bad that it
 is almost impossible
 to breathe.
