The book cover is made of red leather with intricate blind-tooled patterns. The design is divided into four quadrants by a central panel. The top-left and bottom-left quadrants feature a cross-like motif with four stars. The top-right and bottom-right quadrants contain floral and foliate designs. The central panel is a large, vertically oriented, gold-tooled frame with a scalloped, arched top and bottom. Inside this frame, the title is printed in gold. Below the title is a small, ornate gold-tooled flourish.
