

The image shows the front cover of a book bound in red leather. The cover is intricately decorated with gold-tooled patterns. A central, ornate scroll is the focal point, containing the title in German. The scroll is surrounded by a dense field of gold-tooled leaves and flowers. The background of the central panel is a red and black checkerboard pattern. The entire cover is framed by a wide, decorative border with repeating geometric and floral motifs. The spine of the book, visible on the left, also features gold-tooled decorative bands.

Clementine Helm

Auf ihrem Weg