

SHE went to the Yard, where the chickens were fed,
To see if he 'd taken it into his head,
To climb the high fence—for boys go every where—
But no trace of Young Tom could Grandmother find there;
And naught could she see, searching time and again,
But the gabbling old Geese, and the clucking old hen.

---