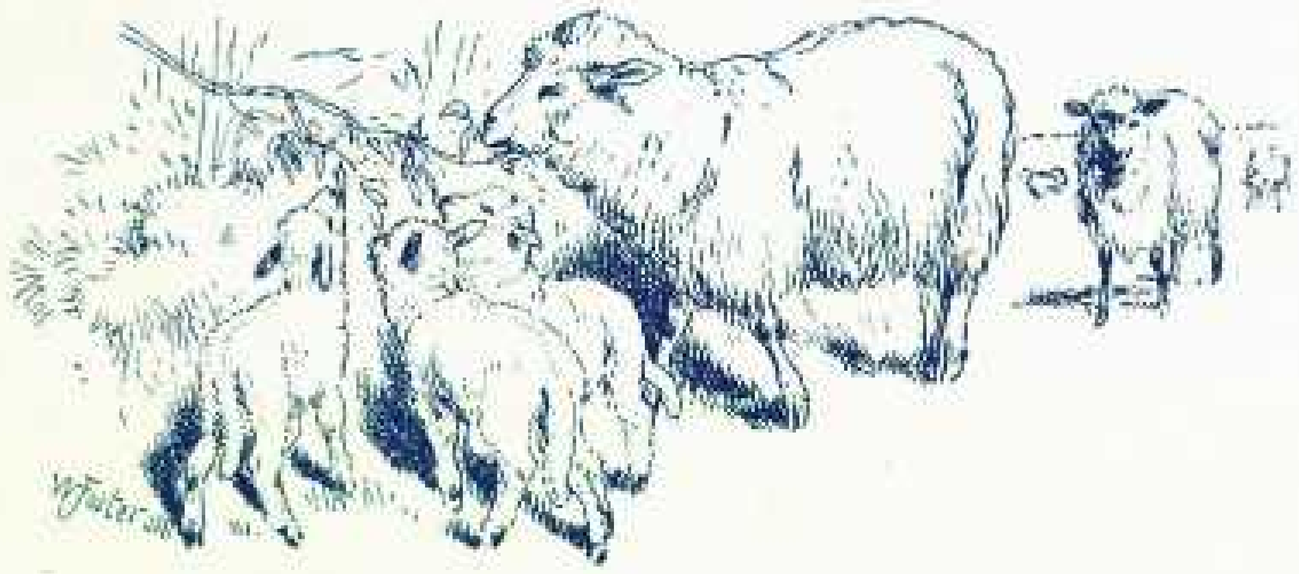
The Baa Lamb's Alphabet



A for the Animals; A for them All;
B for the Baa lamb that comes at my call;
C, the Cow that lows on the lea;
D for the Doves so pleasant to see;
E for the Eggs my pet hen will lay;
F for the Foal that lives over the way;
G for the Guinea-pigs, bought by our John;
H for the Horse that I ride upon;
I for my terrier—he's Irish, you know;
J for the Jackdaw that hops to and fro;
K for the Kitten that plays with a string;
L for the Lap-dog that Uncle will bring;
M for the Milk that I have for my tea;
N for dear Nanny who brings it to me;
O for the Owl that sleeps all the day;
P for the Peacock so noisy and gay;
Q for the "Quack-quacks" that live in the pond;
R for the Rabbits, of which I'm so fond;
S for the Spaniel who barks loud with glee;
T for the Thrush singing loud on the tree;
U for the Urchin, or hedgehog, at play;
V for the Visit I'll pay him to-day;
W, the White-mice I'm going to feed;
X for the eXtra good care that they need;
Y for the Yard where my playtime I spend;
Z the last letter; I've got to the end.

UB Braunschweig http://www.digibib.tu-bs.de/?docid=00000390